ACHCA Recognizes Hall of Fame Honorees

Washington, DC., March 2022 – The American College of Health Care Administrators (ACHCA) recognized the 2020 inaugural Hall of Fame inductees. Rev. Daniel W. Farley, Retired Emeritus Certified, Fellow Emeritus; Mark J. Finkelstein, CNHA, Fellow Emeritus; Larry I. Slatky, CNHA, FACHCA; and James L. Farley, Retired Emeritus Certified, Fellow Emeritus, were inducted into the ACHCA Hall of Fame at the Awards Dinner, Wednesday, March 23 at the ACHCA Annual Convocation & Exposition in New Orleans, Louisiana, at the Hilton New Orleans Riverside.

Additionally, founding members of ACHCA, Theodore E. Hawkins, Alton E. Barlow, Rev. Carl A. Becker, and Kenneth R. Nelson, Jr., were posthumously recognized for their leadership and vision within a professional community that supports the Administrator.

The ACHCA Hall of Fame recognizes individuals who have made significant contributions to the organization for an extended period or contributed to the College uniquely and lasting. To be eligible for membership in the ACHCA Hall of Fame, individuals must have been a member of ACHCA for at least 15 years and attained Fellow status. Additionally, nominated candidates must have served the organization in leadership roles and contributed to its success.

“I thank the Hall of Fame Committee for their efforts in selecting our inaugural class. While circumstances changed the timing of the recognition of these inductees, it doesn’t detract from the level of excellence exhibited by these individuals, nor their significant contributions to our profession. It’s an honor to induct them into the Hall of Fall at our Convocation in New Orleans,” states Robert W. Lane, MA, CNHA, FACHCA, ACHCA President & CEO.

No more than four candidates will be elected to the Hall of Fame each year. A permanent online recognition will be maintained on the ACHCA website. A perpetual plaque with members of the Hall of Fame will be held and exhibited at the annual Convocation.
